

Flying domestic drop facility to centres fined for misleading ads

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

New Delhi: Domestic flyers at Indira Gandhi International (IGI) Airport's Terminal-3 can now use the self-baggage drop facility, which is likely to reduce their wait time by 15-20 minutes.

Passengers travelling by IndiGo flights will be currently able to use the facility, which was introduced on Monday, and IGI operator Delhi International Airport Limited (DIAL) said five more airlines — Air India, Vistara, Air France, KLM Royal Dutch Airlines and British Airways — were likely to allow their domestic flyers to use the same in the near future. The service will be available for international flyers post-mandatory approvals.

Flyers will have to follow a two-step process and drop the luggage at one of the 14 self-baggage drop machines from where their bags will be automatically transferred to the sorting area and onto the aircraft. A passenger will have to first generate the boarding pass and the baggage tag at a self check-in kiosk. After tagging the check-in baggage, the flyer will proceed to the self-baggage drop facility, scan the boarding pass, declare that the consumer affairs ministry said that the central consumer protection authority (CCPA) headed by its chief commissioner Nidhi Khare passed an order against Rau's IAS Study Circle for claiming in its advertisements that "Hundreds of Rau's IAS Study Circle students aced the UPSC exam this year as well".

"It was observed by CCPA that unlike other courses, the IGP Course is not a full-time course. The IGP Course comes into play only after an aspirant has cleared the Prelims examination and the Mains examination of the UPSC CSE. Hence, claiming that an aspirant is a 'successful student' of RAU's IAS Study Circle, in absence of necessary disclosure with regard to the course opted by the aspirant, constitutes misleading advertisement under the Act," the statement said. Delhi: Two suspects heist, raids on to nab

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

New Delhi: Police have apprehended two suspects in the Pragati Maidan tunnel heist and raids are being carried out to nab two others. A CCTV video clip has, meanwhile, surfaced showing how the criminals intercepted the Ola cab in which the victims were travelling on Saturday. The footage shows how the robbery was over within 20 seconds. With the security in the tunnel exposed, the Public Works Department claimed that the guards it had posted in the passage were only to deter vandals and thieves, not to manage law-and-order situations.

Under fire for the deteriorating law and order in the city,

The complainant, Patel Sanjan Kumar, a delivery agent at a Chandni Chowk firm, said he and associate Jigar Patel took the cab from Red Fort at 2.30pm for Gurgaon to deliver the cash. At 3.05pm, when about to enter
