Prime Minister Narendra Modi today announced that his government will provide financial assistance of ₹1,000 to those living in the affected areas. The government has also decided to provide financial assistance to employees not attending office.

CHALLENGES PREVAILING SITUATION

The Army appeals to all sections of population to support our endeavours in restoring peace. Help us to help Manipur," it tweeted.

The statement came two days after a standoff in Imphal East's Itham village between the Army and a mob led by women that forced the forces to let go of 12 militants holed up there. Meanwhile, the Assam Rifles, along with the Nagaland Police, has recovered a large cache of weapons and explosives in Kohima city, which were being transported to the violence-hit state.

"Two pistols, four magazines, ammunition and explosives were recovered," said an official, adding the forces received information that miscreants were trying to smuggle weapons to strife-torn Manipur via Nagaland.

After trolls, Digvijaya Singh to Modi

describing her question as "motivated". Congress leader Digvijaya Singh wanted PM Modi's office to find out who are trolling journalist Sabrina Siddiqui. "Isn't it your own private troll army? If it is so, would you take action against them?" Digvijaya tweeted.

The online attack by the IT cell is par for the course for any Indian journalist deemed by them as "uncomfortable" for the Centre. In this case, they may have pushed the envelope by targeting an American journalist. The South Asian Journalists Association (SAJA) too has backed Siddiqui, who, "like many South Asian and female journalists, is experiencing harassment from simply doing her job". — TNS
